Ethiopia is a fascinating and yet understated country on the Horn of Africa is generally only on the must-see list of the most seasoned and experienced travelers is often overlooked country in Africa has got some of the most beautiful scenery and friendliest people. And most unique claimant found anywhere in the world is consistently between 47 and 77° and certain parts of Ethiopia have what most commonly referred to as an Afro Alpine climate. Most of the tourists that go to Ethiopia generally visit the capital city of Addis Ababa, which means "new flower." In Aramaic, the capital city holds 3.5 million people and is constantly growing and expanding as the capital is constantly improving its infrastructure with roads and other public works such as electric trains. So depending on how many construction projects are under way at any given time. Moving around the city can be quite slow when this occurs it will be better to travel by foot. Rather than by vehicle, the upside to this is that you will get plenty of exercise and be able to take in far more scenery than you would otherwise. This wonderful capital city is famous for its open our markets, selling everything from unique treasures and trinkets to the freshest fruits vegetables, fish and meats found anywhere. The essence of this city and its hustle and bustle will work its way deep into your pores. And you will feel an unexplainable draw to it for the rest of your life. This city is a mix of all African cultures that have wonderfully combined into something that is entirely and uniquely Ethiopian from the music to the food and everything in between. There are wonderful museums that will explain how this cultural melting pot came to be and how it continues to thrive and be a beacon of hope for the rest of Africa. So if exploring the Alpine region of Africa, interacting with its wonderful people, beautiful scenery and exquisite tasting food sounds like a good idea to you, then why not take Ms. Passport along for the ride she will ensure that you have the most memorable and unforgettable vacation possible, her pages are jam packed full of information and interesting tidbits and trivia that will inspire delight and educate this handy little travel guide is broken down into a three-day itinerary from Friday through Sunday. Each day consists of a specific attraction event or adventure, and also lists out the restaurants and/or bars that are in the same general area and that day's activities this is to avoid any unnecessary confusion or frustration of trying to find a restaurant after you have worked up appetite, exploring a wonderful country. These spectacular little guidebooks are designed to alleviate all the stress of planning and itinerary for a memorable vacation. They are also designed to be used by those with a minimalist approach traveling, free-spirited individuals who don't like to stay in one place too long having Ms. Passport with you is like having a tour guide or concierge.
